A Murder is Announced

Director's Notes

This is the fifth play I have directed at Trinity so I think I am just beginning to get the hang of it.

"A Murder is Announced" was Miss Christie's 50th novel published in 1950 and first adapted for television in 1956 starring a young Roger Moore and a not quite so young Gracie Fields.

With a typical Christie country house setting and a number of potential suspects, the mystery is resolved by the combination of PI Craddock and the redoubtable Miss Marple.

See if you can resolve it before the do and please enjoy.

Trivia

There is a joke in the script which would have amused the audiences when the play was written. It's barely recognised nowadays – can you spot it? It's mentioned several times and relates to the alphabet. There's a bottle of wine for the first person to spot it and notify a staff member.

We Are Trinity Players Barnsley!

We are always happy to meet new members so if you have a longing to tread the boards or get involved in any way, come along. We meet every Wednesday evening at this hall BUT!... Don't complain if you come along to do a bit of painting and end up on stage in a chicken costume. You have been warned!

SPECIAL THANKS

As with all Trinity productions, it would not be impossible to bring our shows to you without the hard work and assistance of cast, crew and members during rehearsals as well as during the show.

And special thanks to the Front of House team who are there for your safety and refreshments. Teas and coffees are free in the interval (donations welcome) and served by Dawn and the team.
