Director's Notes

It's still hard to believe that this is Trinity's ninth pantomime since we revived the tradition in 2010 and for the first time we are re-visiting one we did earlier – the classic Cinderella. Probably one of my favourites. It is also hard to believe that when we started doing pantomimes we had about 4 children taking part (the children of cast members), used painted wooden flats that a tall man had to spin by hand to change scenes and did lots of scenes in front of bright orange curtains. Now we have 25 children (almost all with speaking parts), several drop cloths from the ceiling and two painted front curtains and a range of other technical gizmos.

As usual the back room gang – led by the intrepid Neil Barham (sadly not here as he is recuperating from illness), Dale get-off-your-phone Rivers and bolshie stalwart Jim Parkinson - have risen to the challenge. Painters and prop makers Phil Erudite Johnson, Malcolm over-engineer Afferson, Alex Emin Bostock, Ian Van Gogh Harley and newbie Loz Dobson have excelled themselves yet again.

Probably our biggest change this year is the ever extending range of dances featuring a number of young cast members who have been schooled and cajoled by the extremely hard working and talented choreographer Joe Battye ably assisted by assistant director Alice Love. We do not use a troop of dance school students but mould and manipulate what we have.

It is yet again (ninth year running) the traditional tale of love transcending all obstacles – including the need to transform to a princess in seconds.

Despite pressures on our resources and limited physical capacity—we've tried to keep faith with the original ideas of a simple community based family Panto and we are prepared to try and include anyone who wants to have a go. I tender my apologies to Christine and Michael Goodwin for some of the torturous re-writes. My source for some of the (awful) jokes must be the same as other local panto groups!

Please feel free to join in with all of the audience participation sections and make this as pleasurable (if challenging) an experience as it has been for the cast and crew who have been working hard for some months.

For me the highlights to look out for are the Gauze transformation, the mashed potato game, Thriller and the opening number. I think our caped crusaders may also upstage our aged ugly sisters? Enjoy it – and if you do, please feel free to tell others that we are on over two weekends – otherwise, say nowt!

We Are Trinity Players Barnsley!

We are always happy to meet new members so if you have a longing to tread the boards or get involved in any way, come along. We meet every Wednesday evening at this hall BUT!... Don't complain if you come along to do a bit of painting and end up on stage in a chicken costume. You have been warned!

SPECIAL THANKS

Thanks also to Penistone Theatre Society for the loan of costumes and props.

As with all Trinity productions, it would not be possible to bring our shows to you without the hard work and assistance of cast, crew and members during rehearsals as well as during the show.

And special thanks to the Front of House team who are there for your safety and refreshments. Teas and coffees are free in the interval and served by Dawn and the team. Donations welcome.

Ice creams and sweets are available too.
