When We Are Married

by
JB Priestley

Twenty-five years ago,
the Helliwells, the Parkers
and the Soppitts
were married
on the same day
by the same parson....
...and for 25 years,
that's what they believed until.....

Director's Notes

In June of 2017 I was delighted to direct "Lord Arthur Savile's Crime" a play (by Constance Cox from a short story by Oscar Wilde) which featured several of the actors you will see tonight including Michael Cutts in the title role. One actor you won't see tonight is the late, great, William I. Moss who was our honorary President for many a year.

Bill played Baines the implacable aide to his Lordship but sadly, died later the same year & I am honoured to have been his last director. We have chosen to stage "When we are Married" as a tribute to Bill for this was one of his favourite plays and he performed in it no less than three times always playing the same role. Can you work out which? Around the hall you will see some tableaus about him and the play – please do take a look.

We once more have a lovely set on which to perform and lovely costumes too. The colour scheme is an attempt at a sepia presentation which is something I have wanted to try for quite a while. I am grateful to my Trinity colleagues for indulging my demanding requests to provide stuff in that colour palette!

I do hope you have a pleasant evening with Trinity Players and, when the curtain closes, I wish you a safe journey home.

Please make note of our forthcoming productions and visit us on social media for further news.

Thank you all for coming.
