Director's Notes

In 2024, millions of us will fly to exotic locations all over the world. A huge number of you will spend a sleepless night whittling about it the night before you fly. You'll be checking the weather while trying to get all those scary thoughts out of your heads. You made plans for your journey to the airport but will you get there on time? When you hear the boarding call your heart begins to poundexcited?or scared to death!!! Once on board, you check for suspicious looking passengers, chubby ones and crying babies and cross your fingers they aren't sat next to you! On takeoff, you close your eyes, frantically suck a boiled sweet, almost break your companions hand squeezing it, deep breaths in and silently pray. OMG you're thinking the sooner we land the better.

If this is you, you will recognise yourself on stage tonight. Sit back and enjoy watching this group of ordinary folk (Nutters!! Dave calls them) as they wrestle with the fear of flying which I believe at least 75% of you will have. I can promise you a lot of laughter but after tonight you may never want to fly again!!
